Everyone dreams but everyone does not actualise their dreams in reality. The theme of this career awareness programme tries to address the gap between dreams and realities. ‘Plant it now’ is a verbal expression which expresses an activity of planting a tree, a sapling. Just as the way we plant sapling today for tomorrow’s harvest we should put things into action for tomorrow. Yes, dreaming is good, but if and only if it is accompanied by two important components. Firstly, your dreams should be companionable to your ability/capability. One should not dream to become a pilot when his or her skill/ability is best suited to be a teacher! Secondly our dream should be accompanied by action, act according to what you dream of. Without these two components, only dreaming can lead us to disappointment and dejection.

On the theme mentioned above, the One Day Career Awareness Programme was organized on 14th September 2019 by Career Guidance and Counselling Cell, Modern College, touching upon three important topics:- Competitive exams and related opportunities, Academics and related opportunities and Awareness on vocational studies. The first topic was excellently delivered by Ch. Rajen (Associate Professor, Modern College) with lots of important information and guidelines for the young aspirants of civil services. The second topic which is on academics and related opportunities was delivered by Dr. R. Horam (Associate Professor, Modern College) delving into details the academic research guidelines and the opportunities that are available for a sincere researcher. The third topic was delivered by Thongam Ajitkumar (Management Faculty, B.Voc, Modern College) focussing on the importance of vocational studies. Dr. K. Biren Singh, Principal Modern College encourages the students with his witty insights and words of wisdom.
